HARVESTS BRING PROSPERITY.

IN spite of the baneful administration and the continuance of congress the farmer is bringing back prosperity to the old stand where it has been missing for these two years. Of course, when it comes to campaigning the Democrats will claim all the credit due Providence for bountiful crops and thrust themselves into the foreground as the only real substantial harbingers of progress. This revival must have a good effect on mine securities.

Railroads which laid off repair shop crews and reduced their working forces a few weeks ago are now taking back their men as fast as they can round them up. The steel mills of the country are rapidly increasing their output and the proof of the revival of this particular trade is the decision of several companies to shorten their mid-year shutdown for inventories and repairs. Steel mills that it was supposed would suspend operations until the third week in July have already reopened or will blow in their furnaces next Monday. Agricultural implement manufacturers have enjoyed an unusually profitable season. Their sales have exceeded all previous records and their collections are also better. The farmers of this country have not only bought more of everything, but they have been able to pay cash for a large part of it and agricultural credits are higher than ever before. The farmers and not the politicians are putting money into circulation.

Trade in lubricating oils, belting and mill supplies of all kinds has suddenly boomed. Some complaints were heard from houses engaged in this class of business during the spring months, but the improvement in June ran to such proportions that their chief trouble is to fill their orders, and the largest leather belting factories in the country are now running at full capacity. As leather belting is an article which deteriorates when stored, sales of it mean actual and immediate consumption, and this in turn means that the factories of this country are putting more machinery in commission. Nothing can check general prosperity in this country if the promise of the crops is fulfilled. More than 650,000,000 bushels of winter wheat is already safe. The harvest of spring sown grains is now in progress in the southwest. The farmers are getting high prices for everything they have to sell and these prices are likely to hold because the prospective demand in Europe warrants them.

If the department of justice decides to bring criminal proceedings against the New Haven people it will not be for the sake of poetic justice, but for stern justice.

RABBINICAL MARRIAGE IS ATTENDED BY OVER 8,000 AND COSTS $40,000

(By Associated Press.)
VIENNA, July 18.—A wedding whose guests numbered over 8,000 persons and whose feasting continued for eight days, was celebrated recently at Sadagora in Bukowina, one of those remote country districts of Austria-Hungary where mammoth wedding festivities on a scale utterly unknown in America or western Europe are the rule.

QUEEN OF OPIUM RING IS ARRESTED AFTER TWO YEARS

MRS. SOO HOO FONG, WIFE OF CONVICTED SMUGGLER, FALLS INTO FEDERAL NET.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—A little Chinese woman, whom the special agents of the treasury in this city have had under surveillance for over four years, and known to the federal officials as "queen of the opium ring," was taken into custody yesterday afternoon in Chinatown while she was tripping along with one tin of the contraband under her blouse. Although well known to Special Agent John W. Smith, who made the arrest, as Mrs. Soo Hoo Fong, wife of a convicted smuggler, she blandly denied her identity and gave the name of Mrs. Chan Boo. The ring with which she is said to be connected is reputed to have cleaned up $200,000.

The news of the capture was carefully guarded by the federal sleuths, under orders from Chief Agent W. H. Tidwell, and Mrs. Soo was hurriedly removed to the Alameda county jail and placed incommunicado.

The government men declared that the woman has "handled" more of the drug than any one person at this port. For a long time previous to the indictment of her husband, early this year, along with customs guards, steamship company gatekeepers and others, she has been watched closely, as it was known immense quantities of opium were passing through her fingers.

Soo Hoo Fong was convicted last April in Federal Judge Dooling's court, was sentenced and his case is now under appeal to the United States supreme court. Seven customs guards were convicted at the same time. The ring was found guilty of conspiring to bring in the contraband, and according to the government, evidence, a large amount was realized in the operations. The principal testimony was given by three guards, who had confessed to smuggling extending over a long period.
